

LAST DAYS OF CAMPAIGN ARE VERY HECTIC

Sharp Words, Fog of Rival Predictions Fill the Air.

COOLIDGE RESTS

Dawes Closes Campaign In Indiana, Bryan Winds Up
In Home State and Wheeler Speaks In New York.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The great American political episode of 1924 is approaching its day of decision with showers of sharp words and a fog of rival predictions. The last days of active campaigning find most of the principles east of the Mississippi seeking an advantage in a sector long regarded as almost dormant while New York is rallying tonight to hear John W. Davis conclude his campaign.

LaFollette is summing up his case against the old parties at Cleveland. Coolidge expects to remain quietly at home in the White House, delivering his final address by radio Monday night.

Dawes closes his campaign tonight in South Bend, Indiana. Governor Charles Bryan winds up in his home state of Nebraska.

Senator Wheeler, the only candidate to visit the Pacific coast, concluded his campaign tonight in New York City.

From all camps today there issued the usual pre-election expressions of absolute satisfaction and unbounded confidence.

NO OPPOSITION FOR V CHAPMAN

Chapman Was Honor Graduate at University of Kentucky, Former-Practiced Law at Irving.

PARIS, Ky., Nov. 1. (AP)—All J. Virgil Chapman has to do to be Kentucky's youngest congressman-elect and one of the youngest members of the new congress is to roll out of bed election morning and vote for himself. Then he will be elected. While other nominees are "up before breakfast" until probably daybreak Wednesday, he can go right back to bed if he wishes with the election won.

He defeated Marcus A. Jones, of Lexington, and fellow democrat, in the primary and has no opposition in the election Tuesday.

Bourbon county, Mr. Chapman's home, has not furnished a congressman in 60 years. Chapman is 28 years old.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Virgil Chapman of Lexington. While the son will go to Washington, his father remains at Frankfort as state supervisor of rural schools for Kentucky under the Rockefeller general education board, New York City.

Young Chapman was an honor graduate of the University of Kentucky and formerly practiced law at Irvine in the upper end of the Seventh Congressional district as the partner of Senator Clarence Miller.

During the last two and one-half years, he has given virtually his entire time to the organization of the tobacco growers in the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association and the Dark Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association and made more speeches in favor of pooling tobacco than probably any one man.

He recently was elected an honorary member of Morgan's Men at their reunion at Estill Springs.

Gold Bearing Reef Found By Hunters

CHRISCHURCH, New Zealand, Nov. 1. (AP)—A large gold bearing reef at the foot of Mount Tara was discovered in a peculiar manner. It seems some hunters shot a wild pig whose body in falling disclosed a piece of stone at the edge of a river. This was regarded as the sign of gold, and the hunters rapidly uncovered a deposit. Further investigation disclosed the reef.

Young Girl Dies From Attack Unknown Assailant

William Spencer, Negro
Convict Is Now
Under Observation.

SKULL IS CRUSHED

Maxine Kinser, 13-Year-Old Daughter of Harvey Kinser
Suffers Fatal Injuries From Attack.

Jonesville, Va., Nov. 1. Special to The Daily News.

Maxie Kinser, the thirteen-year-old daughter of Harvey Kinser who resides on the Cumberland Gap-Norton pike, about seven miles from Jonesville, was found fatally injured in her home yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. The child's head had been crushed on both temples and she suffered other injuries to the extent that she died yesterday afternoon at 4:30.

William Spencer, colored, a convict in the highway construction camp a short distance from the Kinser home, is held at the camp under guard, suspected with complicity in the crime. According to reports, Spencer, who was a trusty about the camp, went to the Kinser home yesterday morning to return a pan which Mrs. Kinser had used in cooking "possum" for some of the convicts, including Spencer. Spencer returned to the camp and nothing unusual was noticed until the finding of the injured girl a few hours afterwards. He was placed under guard but denies all knowledge of the crime.

Dr. J. C. Muncy of Jonesville, was called and found the girl suffering from a skull fracture in two places. No evidence of criminal assault was found on the body of the girl as first reported.

Opinion in the neighborhood, which at first was directed towards the negro, now seems to have somewhat changed.

The Kinser family have had trouble with other parties in the neighborhood, and suspicion at this time seems to be directed away from Spencer who denies all knowledge of the crime and claims the girl was alive and well when he left the Kinser home.

Spencer is about 31 years old, and is serving a term for burglary. He was convicted in the Virginia courts at Norfolk and has been employed in road construction work for several years.

New Ship's Log Per- fected In Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 1. (AP)—An interesting invention for the accurate indicating of the speed of ships, and the recording of the distance sailed, has been perfected in Sweden, and the functioning of the instrument was demonstrated recently before a meeting of the Swedish Shipowners' Association.

The new log operates with a margin of error of less than 1 percent, compared with an error of as much as 10 percent in the case of some other logs ordinarily used by merchant vessels. It is based on the principle that the pressure of water from the direction toward which movement is made varies with the speed of the vessel. Extending down through the bottom of the vessel is a tube with an opening on the forward side near the lower end. The water level inside this tube varies more or less above sea level according to the speed of the ship, and the indicating mechanism has electrical connections with the bridge which enable the navigator to tell instantly the speed of the ship and the distance sailed.

Polls In Kentucky Close 4 O'clock

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 1. (AP)—The polls in Kentucky will close at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon sharing with those of South Carolina, the earliest closing anywhere in the country.

Polls in Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia close at the official designation of "sundown." In Illinois, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, and Hawaii, they close at 6 o'clock standard time; in Ohio at 6:30 and in New York at 8, eastern standard time.

The latest closing is in Minnesota at 9 o'clock.

WOMEN ARE FOR POLITICS COUNTRY OVER

Susan Anthony Was Arrested for Voting
In 1872.

TIMES CHANGED

In Present National Campaign Women Are Working On Fifty-Fifty With the Men.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—The sturdy old campaigners who applauded when Susan B. Anthony was arrested for voting in the presidential election of 1872, little dreamed that 52 years later women would not only have the franchise nationally, but would be candidates for office, and that women would be running for the office of state governor.

In the present national campaign women are matching candidates, speeches and speakers with the men, an dare actively working shoulder to shoulder with the male political workers of all parties. Although they voted in the presidential election of 1920, their interest in that campaign was largely restricted to a visit to the polls on election day. But this year finds them with equal representation on the national committees of the major parties, under state option and entering politics on a fifty-fifty basis with the men they now have a solid foothold in party councils, national, state, district, county and local.

Never before have women so actively sought public political office. Mrs. M. A. Ferguson, democratic candidate for governor of Texas, and Mrs. Nellie G. Ross, democratic nominee for governor in Wyoming are prominent in the list because no other women seek a gubernatorial chair. But conspicuous before the voters are the names of several women candidates for congress as well as for state, county and city offices.

Pennsylvania has six women candidates for a seat in the national house of representatives. They are Elizabeth R. Culbertson, running on the Prohibition and Labor ticket; Daisy M. Dettlerman, Labor; Anna Van Skike, Prohibition; Mrs. I. Blankenburgh, Prohibition; Jennie Dornblum, Socialist-Labor; and Jessie L. Colet, Democratic-Independent-Labor.

In other states the socialist party has named as its candidates for the house: Isabel C. King, California; Mrs. Kunia Sissman, Illinois; Ruby Herman, Washington; and Mrs. Minnie McFarlane, Oregon.

Women democrats seeking election to the house are Mary Ward Hart, of Illinois; Nellie Cline of Kansas; and Phoebe Sutcliffe of New Jersey. The republicans have only one woman congressional candidate—she is Mary Giles Howard, of Tennessee. E. Luella Barton, of Nebraska, is running on the prohibition ticket and Carrie I. Engle, on the Independent.

A list of the candidates, however, gives little indication of the work women are doing in national politics this year. At republican, democratic and independent headquarters in New York women have their own war chests, raised and spent by themselves, or in co-operation with the men; they have their own strategists, their own election officials, their canvassers and their representatives on election boards.

The offices of Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, member of the republican national executive committee and director of women's campaign activities in the eastern division, occupy an entire floor of the party headquarters. In a room walled with var-colored "war" maps Mrs. Sabin sits at a desk covered with telephones and vases of flowers and directs a feminine offensive along a front that embraces all of New England, New York and New Jersey. She organizes schools for women orators; administers a staff of 8,000 active workers; has a speak-

BOND ISSUE TO MEET ITS FATE

With the Advent of November, the Bond Issue Steps Out of the Public Eye.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 1. (AP)—With proponents and opponents claiming victory in the first breath of campaign, the $75,000,000 bond issue at last goes to a popular vote of approval or disapproval.

With the advent of November, the bond issue steps out of a years' discussion, legislation, court rulings, argument, debate, editorial cross-fire, almost a daily routine and growing more heated each day, into one day's final judgment in every precinct over the state, Tuesday, November 4.

It requires a majority of votes to carry.

As it appears on the ballot, "bond issue for roads, educational, penal and charitable institutions," it is an act under section 50 of the constitution, which provides for submission of any indebtedness in excess of $500,000 to a vote of the people, and not a constitutional amendment.

All Kentucky apparently has been bent on having good roads, and prominent speakers and advocates of the pay-as-you-go plan of building highways have matched men with bond issue advocates. The battle has been fought on stump all over the state since June 20 when the Court of Appeals declared the bond issue constitutional.

Gov. Fields today rests at his home in Carter county while here at the capital, painters and carpenters are cleaning the executive offices for the return of the chief executive after a campaign for the issue, more intensive and extended than perhaps taken by any other Kentucky governor.

On Tuesday, Jan. 8 this year, Gov. Fields appeared before the legislature and delivered his biennial message, devoted almost entirely to recommendation of submission of the issue. J. Woodford Howard, representative from Morgan county, introduced a bill in accordance with the governor's recommendations early in the session.

The bill was prepared by representatives of the Kentucky Good Roads Association. A few slight amendments were adopted unanimously. They did not change the bill's nature. On Feb. 8, the house by a vote of 52 to 45, and the senate, on March 4, 22 to 16, passed the measure. The governor signed the measure on March 7.

Herbert Merdith, Greenville, Ky., and prominent pay-as-you-go advocate, filed suit in Franklin Circuit Court to enjoin the Secretary of State from making the necessary publication of the act and certification preliminary to getting the question upon the ballot in the November election. Soon afterwards, Arthur Allen, president of the Kentucky Good Roads Association, filed, asking for a mandamus to compel publication and certification of the act. The Franklin Circuit Court Judge, Ben G. Williams, held the act to be unconstitutional.

Troops Are Sent to Niles, Ohio to Quell Klan Riot

NILES, Ohio, Nov. 1. (AP)—Two men are killed and upwards to 12 men wounded; nine of them by gunshot in an open warfare in the streets of Niles between partisans of the Ku Klux Klan and forces arrayed against the schedule of the Klan parade. All the killed and wounded are members of the anti-klan faction, it was reported. Modified martial law was established in the city after efforts of the sheriff and chief of police to cope with the situation became futile.

WARREN, Ohio, Nov. 1. (AP)—Headquarters company of 145th infantry left here in automobiles for Niles at 2:20 this afternoon.

BAND OF MEN TIE AND HORSE- WHIP PREACHER

Itinerant Methodist
Minister Is Flogged by Band of Men.

MOTIVE UNKNOWN

Had Been Holding Services In Some Negro Churches Here
According to Police Information.

TOLEDO, Nov. 1. (AP)—Rorer and R. A. McKay, itinerant Methodist preacher, was taken by a band of men to the outskirts of the city Wednesday and tied to a tree and horse whipped according to a statement issued by police today.

The minister is being sought but it is believed that he has taken his family and fled to Detroit. Reverend McKay had been holding services in some negro churches here according to police.

He was requested to come to the Baptist church Wednesday night. When he reached his destination a bag was thrown over his head and he was forcibly placed in an automobile which sped away to an unfrequented part of the city where the bag was removed.

The assailants removed the minister's shirt and applied the horse-whip and threatened him with death if the matter was reported to the police. The authorities were unable to advance any motive for the act.

Everyone Employed On Hayling Island

LONDON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Hayling Island is about the only place in England where there is no unemployment.

The island, in the Southampton area, has a prosperous population of about 3,000 and at present no one there is receiving a penny from the national unemployment fund. The men and women of the island are all busy in the fields, in the fishing grounds and the shops.

The mackerel season, which is just over, has been the best in years and the harvest, unlike the rest of England, is bountiful. There are plenty of visitors on the island and the inhabitants are in a state of financial exuberance.

The islanders also differ from their mainland compatriots in that they would rather live in the country than in the town. Last year the population of one of the two towns on the island dropped from 800 to 500 because the price of farm products went up.

Women Voters Stand For Law Enforcement

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 1. (AP)—Virtually unanimous affirmative answers to questions propounded to Kentucky's senatorial and congressional candidates have been received by the Kentucky League of Women Voters, Mrs. E. L. Hutchinson, president, said today.

They approved strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, the Volstead Act; international co-operation to prevent war; public welfare in government; adequate appropriations for the Bureau of Home Economics and for the Children's Bureau in the Department of Labor; protection of maternity and infancy; and equalization of educational opportunity.

Work of Playground Association Takes In Every Part of the City—Interest Is Growing.

Unanimous approval of the work being done by the local playground and recreation supervisor, August Fischer, was expressed by the executive committee of the Playground Association after hearing his report of his first month's work, given at the committee meeting yesterday afternoon. A budget for the next two months was adopted by the committee. Announcement was made that funds for the playground work were coming in very satisfactorily.

Mr. Fischer, in giving his report, told of activities in various lines. He said courts had been laid out for horseshoe pitching, and that there were a number of entrants working in keen competition for the cup to be given by the American Legion. He said, too, that plans were being made to light the courts for night pitching.

He next took up the Friday afternoon story hour for children being held each week at the library. The following are taking part in this: Mrs. J. H. Neighbors, Mrs. T. G. Anderson, Mrs. C. F. Hart, Mrs. J. L. Eledge, Mrs. E. B. Miller, Mrs. Eddie Young, Mrs. C. K. Froeseher, Mrs. T. D. Arnold, Mrs. J. H. McElhenny, Mrs. E. A. Hubbard, Miss Bessie Edwards and Mrs. H. E. Dinger.

Mr. Fischer has organized troops of Boy Scouts of America which meets each Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the basement of the school. This is an organization for boys under Scout age planned for the study of Indian lore. Mr. Fischer is also fostering the organization of a Boy Scout troop in each church and five of these are taking form.

The recreation directors, report telling of the work done in the schools, showed that considerable progress had been made. He visits all of the ward schools and the high school regularly and teaches the children various games. He has helped to organize six football teams, two in the high school, two in the central school, one at Junction and one at Noetown. This has been done in connection with playground work, utilizing vacant lots about town. A league has been formed and three games have been played, as follows: Central 100 lb. team defeated Junction; High school 125 lb. team defeated Central 125 lb. team; High school 100 lb. team defeated Junction. Coaching of the Junction and Noetown teams is done in the morning before school. Every afternoon the playgrounds are crowded with children playing volleyball, basketball, baseball and basketball, and group games, all under supervision. In co-operation with the Central school principal, balls are loaned to different classes instruction is given at recess periods. Interclass contests are scheduled for this week in playground baseball and volleyball and basketball will follow. Mr. Fischer is also training boys of the high school to take part in a Cross Country Run Athletic Day for which the American Legion will give a silver cup.

London to Have Cheap Amusement

LONDON, Nov. 1. (AP)—A playhouse where seats may be bought for sixpence and a shilling is to be opened shortly through the efforts of a band of parliamentarians, including Mr. Lloyd George, Lady Astor and Mr. Stanley Baldwin, who have started a campaign to raise $1,500 necessary to open the house. Only popular dramas and comedies will be presented.

Icelandic Girls Turn Down Sailors

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Nov. 1.—The girls of Iceland may be separated from the rest of the world by hundreds of miles of Arctic sea, but fashions penetrate here almost as rapidly as men of the outside world. When Paris or London dresses a new style, whether in hair-dressing, gowns or the handling of a feminine cigarette, it is sure to be adopted in Reykjavik before many weeks have passed. The old national costume, unchanged for hundreds of years, is still worn almost exclusively in the rural districts, but in the cities the girl who aspires to social standing keeps abreast of the times, and sometimes even a bit ahead of them.

Big Interests Pad Fund Says Walsh

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—In an analysis of evidence presented before the senate campaign fund investigators Frank Walsh, assistant director, today said that it had been shown at least 75 per cent of the contributions reported were "have come directly from the pockets of great corporations."

Upon the basis of this analysis, Mr. Walsh said, the senate campaign fund should be reformed.

The Colored Voter and The Republican Party

A very well organized and subtle movement has been derway during the campaign just closing, to alienate the ored vote from the republican ticket. There exists not scintilla of evidence to show that the republican party has parted from its traditional policy of friendship for the n. race.

Nearly 70 years ago, at the time of the formation of organization, the party declared its sympathy for the e race, its problems and its travail to reach a higher sta in the march of civilization. Over this stand the part ted Abraham Lincoln and the Civil War followed. Do march of time for the past 60 years, the party has con the friend of the negro and its every act has cried alo God, its friendship for the blackman—the race it brought up out of slavery.

In the last congress, the Anti-Lynching bill—a can measure—would have been passed had it not been votes from southern states—everyone of which are led by the party that seeks to distract the negro v the real issues of the campaign and lead him to forge his best interests in party friendship lies.

If the democratic party is the true friend of the race, let them first get a clean bill of health in the st they own body and soul in a political way. Let them negro his quota of school funds; let them protect h mob violence, let them give him the rights of the guaranteed under the constitution that every freed the right of franchise.

Even now the question has been raised in courts as to the legality of the amendment giving the right of ballot, under the far-fetched premise, tain southern states were "coerced" into accepting stitutional amendment and that the amendment standing under the laws of that particuar state.

If the democratic party "loves the negro" a "best friend the black man ever had" let them children, smooth the pathway of his industrial his rights to the ballot under the laws of the Uni at least a measure of protection and the warrant trial as demanded by every tenet of decency and

After these things and more are done in t the solid south, let the democratic party com hands and bid for the colored vote.

Woman Sheriff Clad
In Rich Attire

CANTERBURY, England, Nov. 1.—(AP).—This medieval cathedral city has just received a custom of medieval times by conferring the office of sheriff upon a woman. Incidentally the recipient of the honor, Mrs. Lucy Green Wells, the wife of a local tailor, has the distinction of being the only woman in England to hold such an office.

"My chief duty as sheriff," Mrs. Wells said recently, "is to appear with the mayor and councillors on special occasions wearing my purple robe, with the silver chain of office round my neck. "Nowadays the under-sheriff is responsible for most of the actual work in connection with the office, but there are still certain functions I perform. If a Canterbury man had to be hanged, for instance, I believe I should have to sign the document certifying that the execution had been properly carried out."

"There were women sheriffs up to the middle ages, and in those days they had to shoulder heavy fiscal, military and administrative burdens. One of the first notable women of the middle ages to hold the office was Hilta, Countess of Salisbury, who was sheriff of Wiltshire until she embraced religion and retired to the Abbey of Lacock."

Fall the Time to Plan Holiday Cheer

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 1.—(AP).—With the falling of the autumn leaf is the time to prepare for Christmas cheer, said Miss Caroline B. Bourgard, state director of music.

"At this time let children's activities have unrestricted reign," she said in a Christmas Message to the state. "Encourage the development of their imagination, unfoldment of their creative instincts, dramatic powers, mechanical skill, their executive and artistic ability."

"Allow them the privilege of planning the Christmas festivities. It will stimulate them to read much classical literature on this subject in search of ideas. Ask them also to compose their own songs for an entertainment. The program, of course, should include the world famous carols, Christmas art songs and hymns."

"Original compositions will serve as an incentive to study songs for form and style from master composers. They will be glad to acquire greater knowledge of notation, music's written language, in order to express their ideas more fully. It is the laboratory method of teaching sight-reading."

"No story exceeds in interest that of the birth of the Christ Child. Christmas holds our attention for a longer period than any other event in the cycle of months."

"Preparations begin with the falling of the autumn leaf. Hearts glow with the spirit of good will, when brilliant summer skies grow drab and winds produce acclim moanings on harps of branches stripped and bare."

"It is time when love is law, when sympathy and brotherhood control the hearts of men."

Miss Bourgard commended the plan annually carried out by Miss Elizabeth Breckinridge, principal in the Louisville Normal School, of having the pupils make new toys and repair old ones for destitute children. Hundreds of discarded toys are sent to the school to be made over under the supervision of the manual training director, she said.

The Frankfort Monday Music club is planning a Community Christmas celebration, which will include the erection of a huge Christmas tree, electrically lighted, in front of a local hotel.

"The custom of placing candles in windows to attract carolers and bid them heartily welcome is growing," Miss Bourgard said.

Unique and Pretty

This picturesque and feminine little frock departs from the straight and narrow and certainly no one could mind it in the least. It is of lustrous black satin with a unique waist and full skirt with a corsage of roses in natural color applied on the waist and bands of rose colored velvet on the skirt. About the hips a bit of embroidery in gold thread.

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—
The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the fact. Granger is "rough cut" to "cut" slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

Hudson and Essex
Reduced In Price

Substantial price reductions on Hudson and Essex coaches were announced today by Hawkins Motor Co. following the receipt of a special message from the Hudson Motor Car Co.

The reduction results in the Hudson Coach, a closed car, now selling at less than the standard open cars on the same chassis. This is the first time in motor car history when this has been true, it is declared.

The Hudson Coach's new list price is $1385, as against $1400 for the 4-passenger open Sixer-Six car and $1500 for the 7-passenger open car.

The Essex Coach at $945 is still slightly higher than the Essex open car, but the differential is declared by Hudson-Exxon officials to be the smallest in the industry since from Hudson.

This move by the Hudson Motor Car Co. is unexpected, because the last few weeks have seen a substantial number of motor car price increases taken to mean that Hudson-Exxon now regards open cars as luxuries and proposes to give the advantage of volume production the enclosed cars which make up least 90 per cent. of its product. Open car and sedan prices are changed.

The reduction was made possible according to Hudson officials, cause 1921 has been the largest year in Hudson history, hitherto unknown 100,000 more having been reached about September economies have thus been possible.

Mr. Hawkins said: "This advantage in price is made possible to buyers because Hudson followed their creation of Coach with volume production. This Hudson-Exxon enclosed cars put the range of price competition."

"Hudson-Exxon coaches are the largest selling six cylinder cars in the world, and with these seasonal new prices, are more ever unmatched values in the field."

Extra Work Penalty
For "Hookeyin"

PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 1.—(AP).—Extra work is a better punishment to school boys "planning" than suspension.

The Pineville Board of Education believes.

Supt. W. T. Jones suspended boys from school for from two fire days. The boys had absent themselves from high school week. The board rescinded the action of the superintendent and city and assigned fifteen hours of extra work for four boys five extra hours for one.

"And by the time we thought a new costume for a mascot, we decided to go as a better wreck."

In Boston, a man claims a 600 reward for staying sober years. Even if he doesn't get his reward, he has saved that much.
